Product Description

Cartridge Water Filter Magnesium 3/4 Inches

This true Alkaline filter contains five different media that emit Far Infrared Rays. The first stage process starts with a sediment filter. The second stage is a magnetic module. The third stage is a water treatment with a special blend of media. The fourth stage is a mineral taste to the water. The fifth stage is a Carbonate and Magnesium media. The media is minded from our special blend of media. The media gives a mineral taste to the water. The media is Carbonate and Magnesium. The media is stream. The media is Tourmaline. The media is Far Infrared Rays and ceramic media disc. The media is ions (above 800/cc). The media increases the water. The media the oxidation-reduction. The media Super Ceramic" layer.

imparts a pleasant taste to the water while emitting even more Far Infrared Rays. Almandine Garnet is a naturally occurring gem mineral with uniform physical, chemical, hardness, friability and micro-structure characteristics, which provide the essential properties for the water filtration processes. The KDF Redox layer incorporates a special blend of high purity Copper and Zinc to reduce heavy metals, microorganisms, scale, and is listed bacteriostat. The water exits through a polishing sediment filter ensuring safe, clean and crystal clear drinking water.
